Provincial laws provide for a period of probationary service for qualified teachers. This probationary period is a period of employment for more than one full school year under the same contract. When a teacher enters into an agreement with a board and has previously been employed as a teacher by one other school board in the province for more than one full year within three years prior thereto, the period of employment with the other school board shall, for the purpose of accumulated teaching service be deemed to be time during which the teacher was employed under the new agreement with the new board.
